Aldila Lobo
Project Advisor
alobo@deloitte.com

Aldila has over 19 years of consulting experience including 10 years as a Project Executive at Deloitte managing large-scale technology implementations.

Aldila has provided guidance on project issues, risks, staffing, and organization structure for several projects in Texas, including adoption of Agile for managing a large mission-critical program for Health & Human Services benefit management.

Furthermore, Aldila has additional state government experience with large states including the California Department of Public Safety, Los Angeles County Department of Public Social Services, and the State of Louisiana. She also serves as the Lead Business Partner for the State of Texas and is committed to bringing the right team and experience critical to project success.

Mayra Marquez
Project Deputy
maymarquez@deloitte.com

Mayra has over six years of experience leading government IT and Health and Human Services projects at Deloitte. She has led organizational change, discovery, development, and testing including working with clients to assess technology and people-related needs to address agency transformations.

Prior to Deloitte, Mayra worked in nonprofit fundraising. She moved to Austin 9 years ago from California and spends her free time outdoors and with family which includes a puppy and two cats.

She graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a Master of Public Affairs from the LBJ School of Public Affairs and a Master of Arts in Latin American Studies and has a BA from UCLA.

Dave Moore
Lead Analyst
davmoore@deloitte.com

Dave has over 3 years of experience providing financial support to Health and Human Services projects at Deloitte. He has headed contractual financial compliance, developed accounting policy manuals, and creating forecasting procedure on his engagements.

Prior to Deloitte, Dave worked in Oil and Gas field, providing logistical support on the ground to capital expenditure projects. He moved to Austin 3 years ago and spends free time writing, socializing with friends, and volunteering with Seedling.

He graduated from the University of Texas Tech and has a BA in History.

J.R. Ruiz
Project Manager
jrruiz@deloitte.com

JR is the Human Capital Leader for Deloitte's Texas Account and a leader with the firm's national Government & Public Services (GPS) Organization Strategy, Design and Transformation Offering.

With 15 years of strategy consulting experience and over 10 years in the Health and Human Services sector, JR's experience includes designing and developing organizational structures and operating models during large transformations, as well as addressing challenges in adopting modern, collaborative business practices.

Her most recent engagements have a heavy emphasis on digital transformation, working with executives to clearly define ambition and understand where their organizations sit along the spectrum of rewire, redesign or reinvent as they explore the impacts of the 'future of work' against their current mission and service delivery models.

She graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a BA and a Master of Public Affairs from the LBJ School of Public Affairs.

Eric Egan
Team Lead
eegan@deloitte.com

Eric has over 5 years of consulting experience within Deloitte's Government and Public Services practice and nearly 9 years across the private, public, and nonprofit sectors overall. At Deloitte, Eric has helped deliver IT and Health & Human Services projects where he led workstreams and initiatives related to software requirements gathering and analysis, business process improvement, change management, training, and stakeholder engagement. His focus is how technology can be utilized to enhance service delivery for State agencies.

Eric's other professional and personal interests include education policy, nonprofit management, soccer, sci-fi novels, and outdoor activities.

He graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a Master of Public Affairs from the LBJ School of Public Affairs and has a Bachelor of Arts (BA) in U.S. History from the University of Chicago.
